Masterclasses

Building an Online Course   Prof. Rahul De, IIM Bangalore

Courses have no boundaries now, learners from around the world are going online to build new skills. You have a course? How can you build an online version..

Fun with Data Science! Naveen Chintamaneni, Kaddy

Data driven feedback is important to improve learning.  Often time a lot of data is collected, but we don't make sense out of it. This workshop will help understand what types of data to collect and how to generate insights about student learning.

Teaching STEM with Fun   Ravikiran A, Deccan Center for Innovation and Design

A professional development workshop to help teachers bring hands-on engineering lessons into their classrooms to encourage inquiry led learning, enhance technical literacy and provide a platform for teachers to help students experience STEM and make informed choice.

Digital Learning Circle   Accenture

Accenture will share lessons from a global study done with NGO partners on how to design & scale digital and blended learning programs to improve employment & entrepreneurship outcomes for youth

Using films for learning   Syed Sultan Ahmed, Managing Director, EduMedia India

If "A picture is worth a thousand words"...
A film... can, well, spark a revolution...
Films (short and feature) can evoke deep learning experiences...
Explore use of  the "film" in the curriculum.

Games & Play Bharath Palavalli, Fields of View

Using games & play, purposefully, transforms the learning arena. The method, in itself, promotes development of all non-cognitive skills & strengthens cognitive goals as well. The session will help explore the idea of using games, sports and play in all forms of learning endeavors.

Mobile Learning   Babitha George, Partner, Quicksand
The App is here... Learning has a new playground...
M-learning is the future, has an unbelievable reach, but needs new learning tools...
Come build a M-learning idea...

Professional Learning Networks Online
Maryam Ghofraniha, Head of Global Partnerships, Linkedin

Sharing, networking & learning are in a virtual space today. Professional growth in the (online) connected world is a new must-have skill that is fast re-defining learning for change...
