Dr. H. Harish Hande

Harish Hande is an engineer and renewable energy entrepreneur with over 20 years of grassroots experience in meeting requirements of underserved communities. He is the co-founder of SELCO India, and under his leadership SELCO reached 2,20,000+ households across 6 Indian states, while focusing on Innovation and Ecosystem building, for which he received the Magsaysay award in 2011.

Harish, a graduate from the Indian Institute of Technology, Kharagpur and a Masters and PhD from University of Massachusetts, USA, returned to India to start SELCO in 1994-95 after experiencing the benefits of solar energy in the rural areas of Dominican Republic and Sri Lanka. Having installed the first 1000 home lighting systems on his own and in over 2,20,000 households now through his company SELCO India, Harish is recognized as a pioneer of rural energy service across the globe. He and his company have received many national and international awards, including the Ashden award (2005 and 2007), The Tech Museum award (2005), Khemka Social Entrepreneur of the year 2007, and the Financial Times – Arcelor Mittal Boldness in Business award 2009. Harish was one of the 21 CEOs invited to meet US President Barrack Obama during his visit to Mumbai in 2014.
