

Collision Time of 3 Independent Simple Symmetric Random walks

Anish Sarkar,
Indian Statistical Institute, Delhi

Date: 25.01.2019, Venue: P22 @ 11AM

Abstract

Random walks are the basic building in probability. They occur naturally in many situations. It is well known that the collision time of two independent random walks are finite but has no expectation. We investigate here first collision of three independent random walks and show that the expectation of this finite and we provide an explicit formula for this expectation. These results can be generalized to Markov processes via Lyapounov method.

Speaker Profile

<https://www.isid.ac.in/~anish/>