

About the Editors

Professor Ramnath Narayanswamy is a Professor at the Indian Institute of Management Bangalore. Combining Economics, Political Science and Sociology, he secured his doctorate from the School for Advanced Studies in the Social Sciences, in Paris. He taught at the Center for the Management of the Socialist Economies in the Gokhale Institute of Politics and Economics in Pune. He was Visiting Research Fellow in the Centre for Russian and East European Studies of the University of Birmingham (supported by the Rockefeller Foundation) and was Reader in the Centre for Eurasian Studies of the University of Mumbai. He was also invited by the German Foreign Ministry to do a study on The Indian Response to Perestroika 1985-1990 (supported by a grant from the Volkswagen Foundation) at the Federal Institute of East European Studies in Cologne. He was Visiting Professor in the Maison des Sciences de l'Homme in Paris, the Federal Institute of East European and International Studies in Cologne, McGill University in Canada, The Management School, Lancaster and HEC Montreal. He also held a Visiting Professorship at Nyenrode University in the Netherlands and the School of Business, Economics and Law of the University of Gothenburg in Sweden. Fluent in several languages, a frequent contributor to professional journals in India and abroad, Dr. Ramnath Narayanswamy has published extensively in his domain. His areas of interest include leadership development, business and culture and society and spirituality.

Professor Yochanan Altman is an occupational psychologist and holds a doctorate in occupational anthropology. He specializes in the interface between culture, people and organizations. Educated in Israel and the UK, Yochanan has worked throughout Europe, Southeast Asia, China and Australia. He has over 25 years of experience in business schools and has over a hundred publications in international refereed journals. He is the Founding Editor of the Journal of Management, Spirituality and Religion. He has been a pioneer in several research initiatives, has a number of achievements to his credit, has been an organizational consultant and occupational psychologist specializing in Human Resources, change management and self-development for over 25 years, and has been actively involved in counselling and psychotherapy for well over a decade. He is on the board of a number of international journals and has been a source of inspiration and guidance to research scholars and doctoral students in the UK and Europe. His work has been translated in several languages including German, Spanish, Russian, Hebrew, Dutch and Hungarian.

Professor Sunita Singh Sengupta is currently Head and Dean of the Faculty of Management Studies, University of Delhi. Prior to that, she was an Associate Professor for about 10 years in the Behavioural Science Group at Indian Institute of Management Calcutta. She is the Founder and Convener of Integrating Spirituality and Organizational Leadership Foundation (India & USA) and Chief Mentor of Academy of Value Based Management (a unit of ISOL Foundation). She has authored 28 books and more than 60 articles in national and international journals of repute. Dr. Singh Sengupta is a widely travelled scholar and has lectured in the USA, UK and France. She was the recipient of the distinguished Homi Bhabha Fellowship. Her areas of interest include Business Transformation through Spiritual Leadership, Indigenous Management, Generating Happiness at Workplace, Corporate Social Responsibility, Women Leadership in Organizations, Ethical and Spiritual Foundations of Organizational Development and Exploring the Vedic Foundations of Indian Management. She has inspired significant scholarly initiatives in the domain of organizational leadership, spirituality and Indian management studies.